What is covered?

Private
Compensation Whenever a third party culpably infringes your rights, your health or your property, you are entitled to appropriate compensation in money. Example: On the ski slope you collide with another skier who crosses the slope without looking around. You have the possibility to claim for compensation in the form of damages for pain and suffering - we will support you in this.	✓
Private contracts The costs for disputes from all kinds of contracts from your private life are covered. Whether a purchase contract, insurance contract or contracts with service providers. Example: The new television surprises with a lack of colours. You ask for the device to be replaced, but the online retailer refuses.	✓
Tax office (e.g. tax assessment) If disputes arise between you and the tax authorities about taxes and duties, you will receive legal assistance.	✓ already from opposition proceedings

✓ covered up to 100% of the
the sum insured

Example: You think that your income tax assessment is incorrect. You can appeal against the tax office's assessment and, if necessary, take legal action. You will receive legal support for this.
Social authorities (e.g. work accident, care level) If there is a dispute between you and the social authorities, you will receive legal assistance. This includes all matters relating to statutory health insurance, nursing care insurance, pension insurance or unemployment insurance. Example: You apply to the statutory health insurance fund for necessary treatment. However, this application is rejected. It is possible to appeal against this administrative act and then take legal action against it. You will receive legal support for this.	✓ from the time of the appeal procedure onwards, with the exception of disputes relating to social welfare law
Administrative authorities If disputes arise between you and the administrative authorities, you will receive legal assistance. Example: Your child is expelled from school even though he/she was not involved in what happened. You want to appeal against the expulsion and, if necessary, take legal action. You will receive legal support for this.	✓ already from opposition proceedings
Defence in criminal law In principle, you can defend yourself against the accusation of a crime that was not committed intentionally. However, the insurance only applies if you are acquitted in court. Deliberate offences such as bodily injury, fraud, insult, manslaughter and murder are generally not covered by the insurance. Example: On the way to work you collide with a pedestrian on your bicycle. The pedestrian breaks his or her arm and reports you for negligent physical injury. You are not aware of any negligent behaviour and want to defend yourself against it. You will be given legal support in this. If you are acquitted in court, the costs will be covered by the legal expenses insurance.	✓
Administrative offences Disputes between you and the regulatory authorities include the enforcement of legal interests in connection with the defence against the allegation of an administrative offence. Example: You are fined by the public order authorities for playing music too loudly. It is possible to defend yourself against this before the administrative court.	✓
Victims' legal protection If you have been the victim of a violent crime, it is possible to appear as a joint plaintiff in the criminal proceedings in order to directly enforce claims for damages without detours via the civil court. Example: You are beaten up and seriously injured on the street on your way home in the evening. Now you can appear as a joint plaintiff in the criminal proceedings and thus obtain payment of damages from the offender.	✓

✓ covered up to 100% of the the sum insured

Study place lawsuits If you or a co-insured person wish to take legal action to enforce admission to a desired degree programme, the applicant will receive legal support. Example: Your child is applying for admission to the Law Faculty. As the Abitur grade does not correspond to the required numerus clausus of the degree programme, he/she will not be admitted to the programme. You would like to take action against the rejection notice so that you can still be admitted to the degree programme for your child. You will receive legal support for this.	✓ 5 years waiting time
Low-risk capital investments (e.g. building society savings) These disputes involve the enforcement of legal interests in connection with the management of your low-risk investments. Example: If disputes arise in connection with the management of your building society contracts or savings accounts, the insurer will cover the costs incurred.	✓
Supervision procedure A childcare procedure involves the representation of legal interests in direct connection with childcare orders. Example: you need legal support after a failed operation. The attending doctor then orders you to be admitted to a nursing home. In this case, the care court decides on this.	✓
Law of Succession The legal protection of inheritance law comprises advisory activities by a lawyer in matters of inheritance law. In addition to the advisory representation, the legal expenses insurance also partially covers court costs arising in the context of disputes under inheritance law. Example: After the death of one of your parents, disputes arise about the validity of the will. You then contact a lawyer. In addition to verbal or written advice from the lawyer or the preparation of an expert opinion, the costs of the probate court are also covered if you are unable to reach an out-of-court settlement with the other parties.	up to € 1,000 for legal advice and further legal activities
Advice on copyright infringements on the Internet You have the possibility to take advantage of a consultation in case of an accusation of copyright infringement on the Internet. Example: You are accused of having downloaded music, pictures or films on the internet and thereby infringing copyrights. There is the possibility to get legal advice.	✓ max. € 800/calendar year
Marriage law The legal protection of matrimonial property rights includes advisory activities by a lawyer in matrimonial matters. In addition to the advisory representation, the legal expenses insurance also partially covers court costs arising in the context of matrimonial disputes.	up to € 250 for legal advice and further legal activities

the sum insured

Example: Your marriage is about to be dissolved and you would like to divorce. Both you and your partner then contact a lawyer. In addition to verbal or written advice from the lawyer or the preparation of an expert opinion, the court costs incurred in the family court are also covered.
Maintenance law Legal protection under maintenance law includes advisory activities by a lawyer in matters relating to maintenance. In addition to the advisory representation, the legal expenses insurance also partially covers court costs incurred in the context of disputes relating to maintenance obligations. Example: After your divorce, disputes arise between you and your ex-wife/husband regarding the maintenance payments for the children you have together. In addition to verbal or written advice from a lawyer or the preparation of an expert opinion, the court costs incurred in the family court are also insured.	up to € 250 for legal advice and further legal activities

Professional

Defence in disciplinary and professional matters The disciplinary law deals with the consequences of breaches of official duties by officials, such as officials, judges, soldiers or police officers Disputes in the field of professional ethics arise when a member of a professional group group that is organised in chambers, such as doctors, pharmacists, architects, lawyers, auditors or a public body, is accused of an offence.	✓
Severance pay, holiday pay etc. If disputes arise between you and your employer in the course of the employment relationship, you will receive legal assistance. Example: You receive what you consider to be an unjustified salary classification. You want to defend yourself against this.	✓
Warnings/cancellations Disputes concerning dismissals, warnings or unfair assessments by your employer are covered. Example: Your employer issues a warning letter or dismissal. You do not agree with this and want to defend yourself against it.	✓
Advice on the termination agreement An employment relationship between employee and employer can be terminated by mutual consent by means of a termination agreement.	✓ max. € 1,000 per calendar year

✓ covered up to 100% of the the sum insured

The agreement is only valid if you as an employee agree. Therefore, you have the opportunity to first consult a lawyer about the drafting of the contract and the consequences of the termination agreement.
Advice in the event of employer insolvency If your employer becomes insolvent, your insurer will cover the costs of legal advice. Example: You are seeking advice on your wage claims and notice periods.	✓ max. € 500/insurance claim
Advice on pension or retirement If you have questions about your pension or retirement, your insurer will cover the costs of an initial consultation. For example, you will be advised in particular about part-time or early retirement schemes, additional income opportunities or reduced earning capacity pensions.	✓ legal advice by phone only
